Bishop T.D. Jakes:

"The doctor leaned over in my ear and said you had a massive heart attack. And the reason I didn't realize this is because I had none of the symptoms that they say, no numbness, no sharp pain, no anything, I just kind of drifted off to sleep. I didn't know what it was. I almost died. He said five minutes later I'd have been dead on arrival. The right side of my heart had completely stopped giving blood at all and as long as I was up preaching, I felt fine. But when I sat down, the adrenaline dropped and it exposed the fact that I was preaching with half of my heart closed, through a clot."

The Bishop is a classic example of the tremendous amount of people every year who have no symptoms but experience a life-threatening heart attack without warning.

Please let people know that the Multifunction CardioGram (MCG) was designed for exactly this purpose - to detect heart disease at all levels years before symptoms occur giving you the opportunity for early treatment and avoiding the impending heart attack or stroke.

It is far better to uncover, treat and avoid heart disease, before symptoms occur, then to experience a heart attack and hope you make it to the hospital in time.

Locate an MCG testing site near you on this website. If no site is listed in your area, please call us and we will help locate one for you.
